The Courier will be up tonight for Pomeroy.

The Bonanza is due down tonight from Pomeroy.

This is the Uralia's night for Cincinnati from Ironton.

It will take at least three feet of ice to float the Joe Williams.

About 4,000,000 bushels of coal left Pittsburgh yesterday in barges.

The ice gorges above moved out yesterday without doing any damage.

The Exporter was in Cincinnati harbor Monday with a small tow. She was formerly the John Gilmore, and was in the St. Louis harbor when the cyclone struck that city three years ago.

This is her first appearance in this part of the river since her rebuilding and renaming.

River men were dumfounded when they learned that Congress had failed to pass the River and Harbor Bill.

The rivermen had come to the conclusion, late last week, that Congress would pass the measure, but the failure of that body to do so places the improvements contemplated in the Pittsburgh district in a deplorable condition.

It has been officially announced by the Kanawha and Ohio Coal Company that an order had been given for the building of a light and small, but powerful, towboat. Her dimensions will be 110 feet long, 30 feet wide, and 4 feet between the timbers. Her cylinders will be 12x27 and 24x7. The boat will have compound condensing engines.

Stop that cough by using Ray's Cough Syrup; it's guaranteed.

Who Are They?

Mayville and Mason county have been the birthplace and home of many distinguished men.

THE LEDGER respectfully invites its readers to furnish a list of twelve names of persons—dead or living—who, in their judgment, have contributed most for the advancement of Mason county and the city of Mayville, commercially and intellectually.

The names, with that of the contributor, will be published in the order in which they are received.

DO YOU TAKE THE LEDGER?

If not, you ought.

Please try it a month, and if you are not satisfied we will refund your 25 cents.

TORTURING CONFUSING HUMORS

ITCHING BURNING AND SCALY ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN SCALP AND BLOOD WITH LOSS OF HAIR CURED BY CUTICURA

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in Eczema; the frightful scaling as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalded head; the facial disfigurement, as in pimples and ringworms; the awful suffering of infants and the anxiety of worn-out parents, as in milk crust, tetter and salt rheum—all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them. That CUTICURA remedies are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy have made them the standard skin cures and humor remedies of the civilized world.

Complete Treatment $1.25

The treatment is simple, direct, agreeable and economical, and is adapted to the youngest infant, as well as adults of every age. Bathe the affected parts with hot water and CUTICURA SOAP to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales, and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without hard rubbing, and apply CUTICURA OINTMENT freely, to allay itching, irritation and inflammation and soothe and heal, and lastly take the CUTICURA RESOLVENT to cool and cleanse the blood. This sweet and wholesome treatment affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest forms of eczema and other itching, burning and scaly humors of the skin, scalp and blood, and points to a speedy, permanent and economical cure when all other remedies and even the best physicians fail.

Millions of Women Use CUTICURA SOAP, assisted by CUTICURA OINTMENT, for beautifying skin, for the cure of itching, burning, and whitening red, rough hands, in the form of baths for annoying irritations, for too free or excessive perspiration, for the cure of eczema, and for many other skin ailments. CUTICURA SOAP is the best skin and complexion soap, and the BEST toilet and baby soap in the world.

EVEN The Courier-Journal is moved to remark that Mr. BECKHAM made a serious mistake in pardoning gambler ED. ALVEY. Br'er MARSH is still to be heard from; but Br'er DULLEY will be heard from "still."

ONE of the reasons advanced by Mister BECKHAM for the pardon of gambler ALVEY was that, if gambling must exist, it is better to have "competition" in the business; and yet in another place he says he pardoned ALVEY on his promise "not to violate the law again!" If ALVEY keeps his word, it will leave WHEIMHOFF in complete control of the gambling industry in Louisville, thus defeating the acting Governor's desire to encourage competition.

The Cynthia Democrat, more power to it, appeals for the upbuilding of its city; and among the multitude of good advice it gives, begs the people to "lay aside small, mean politics." That's it, Br'er ALLEN. If the people of Kentucky would only learn to work at politics on election day, giving the remainder of the year to business affairs and the cultivation of friendly relations with outside capitalists who would come to the state and invest their money, Kentucky would soon take her proper place at the head of the prosperity parade.

Pan-American Outlook.

The Big Exposition Promises to Exceed All Expectations.

Exhibits From All the States and Countries of the Western Hemisphere—More Than a Score of Great Buildings to Shelter the Displays.

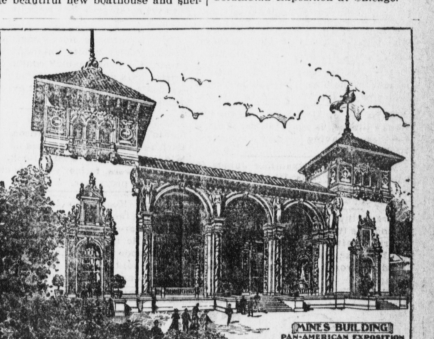

The Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo during the summer of 1901 will not only be beautiful, but it will be a greater opportunity to give for elaborate and beautiful decoration. In all the courts are to be large pools, into which beautiful cascades and wonderful fountains will throw their crystal streams. To the water features will be added the garden effects. These will comprise large sunken gardens, with formal beds of rare and beautiful flowers, and many plants of a highly decorative character will be displayed throughout the courts. The grounds outside the main group of buildings are also to be richly adorned with horticultural and floral features. The horticultural exhibits, to which about seven acres are devoted in the southern part of the grounds, will contribute much to the decorative effect. In this exhibit will be over 500 beds, many of them containing hundreds of plants of a single variety of flowers.

The exterior wall of all the buildings of the Exposition are to be of staff. All cornices, corners, window openings and entrances are receiving very elaborate adornment in model plastic work. This ornamentation is of a far more elaborate and intricate character than heretofore used on any exposition. The roofs of all the buildings are to be of red tile, and the exterior walls are to be painted in harmonious colors, giving a most pleasing effect to the eye.

This Exposition will stand pre-eminent in point of original sculpture. There will be more than 125 groups of magnificent original works by some 50 or more American sculptors of note. This grand scheme is under the personal direction of Karl Bitter, who was in charge of a similar work at the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago.

ter erected by the city of Buffalo. Crossing the bridge between the lake and the North Bay, the New York State Building may be seen on the north bank of the T. This also is of white marble, drefproof and a permanent structure. It will be devoted, after the Exposition, to the uses of the Buffalo Historical Society.

Continuing up the slight grade across the bridge, we now come to the "Approach" (D), where we get the first broad view of the wonderful group of buildings devoted to the various exhibit divisions of the Exposition.

It will be noted by reference to the plan that the buildings are all grouped around a system of courts which have been aptly described as in the form of an inverted letter T. The central court, corresponding to the cross of the T, is the Esplanade, capable of accommodating 250,000 people. North of this, corresponding with the perpendicular of the T, are the Court of Fountains and the Plaza, which reach almost to the northern limits of the grounds. On either side of the Court of Fountains are the subordinate courts known as the Court of Cypress and Court of Lilies. These several courts have a combined area of 33 acres, which is far more extensive than

Owing to the nearness of Niagara Falls, with its unlimited power, the large area of the courts and the arrangement of the buildings about these courts has been made possible to present an electrical display far more elaborate and grand than any before conceived. Some 5,000 horsepower and more than 200,000 incandescent electric lamps will be employed in this wonderful illumination. The centerpiece of this display will be the Electric Tower, a structure of superlative beauty standing between the Plaza and the Court of Fountains. This glorious work, designed by John Galen Howard, is 375 feet high. Its southern face is a beautiful cascade, 30 feet wide and 70 feet high, falling upon a terraced base. This cascade and all the fountains of all the courts will be richly illuminated at night in a great variety of colors, giving an effect of fantastic and enchanting beauty.

Standing in the Court of (B) and looking north, immediately in front of the Exposition, is the Court of the Triumphant Bridge (G). This bridge will be one of the most beautiful works of the Exposition, having four great piers and a central span. The sculptured groups modeled by Mr. Bitter and others. Crossing the bridge, we may see on the extreme right the SHARK SCENES.

The British House of Commons in a Terrible Up roar at Midnight.

FIGHT BETWEEN MEMBERS AND POLICE.

Sixteen Irish Representatives Were Suspended and Ejected From the Chamber by the Officers.

The Nationalists Fought and Struggled Frantically, but at Length a Superior Force Overcame and Dragged Them Out.

London, March 6.—After midnight Mr. Balfour applied the closure on the education estimates. The nationalists shouted "Gag," "gag," and refused to leave the house when the division was taken. Mr. Balfour then asked them to retire to the division lobby, but they shouted, "Certainly not," Mr. Flavin cried: "I protest against the way all Irish votes are closed."

The chairman then intimated that he must report the matter to the speaker. In the meantime the other members had returned to lobbies and some uproar, 30 or 40 Irishmen remaining in their seats.

The speaker, having returned to the house, the chairman reported the matter to him, and the speaker asked if the Irish mob still refused to obey the order, and there were cries of "Yes, yes."

The speaker then named 16 rebels, and Mr. Balfour moved their suspension. This was agreed to without division.

Ordered to Withdraw.

The speaker ordered them to withdraw, but they refused, amid great uproar. The speaker called upon the sergeant-at-arms to remove them. They shouted defiance. The deputy sergeant-at-arms advanced and asked them to leave. Still they refused.

At this, a number of constables and policemen entered to enforce removal. Never before had such a scene occurred in the house as accompanied the removal of Mr. Green. He struggled fiercely with the constables who summoned the police, a dozen constables entering the house. The nationalists jeered at them. Four or five stalwart policemen proceeded to seize Mr. Green, who stuck his legs under the seat and could not be moved for some minutes.

Meanwhile other policemen were struggling and fighting with other Irishmen, who stood up and obstructed the passage of the police to Mr. Green's seat. The Irish shouted "Don't kill him," and "Don't kill the man."

Stormed the Irish Benches.

The nationalists fought and struggled frantically, but at length a superior force of police succeeded in dragging Mr. Green out by the legs and arms and carrying him down the floor of the house, the Irishmen shouting and crying "Shame," "Shame," and "Shame!"

WATCHING THE LEADERS.

United States Secret Service Men Are Apprehensive of Plans for an Uprising in Cuba.

Havana, March 6.—United States secret service officials are informed that plans are afoot for a Cuban uprising, and disquiet is evident now by efforts of leaders to hold the revolutionary element in check. This fact is confirmed by such men as Gonzales De Quesada. Notwithstanding its apparent irresponsibility, the story of a plan for an uprising comes to the secret service officials with much circumstantial detail.

They have full knowledge of vigorous efforts of conservative leaders to prevent an outbreak which would be fatal to Cuban liberty. Secret service men know that the revolutionary party has funds in bank at Havana, and that a leader, who left Havana recently, drew $50,000 cash and carried it with him. It is believed he has gone to the United States, and movement of some sort, and agents have been dispatched to watch his movements.

Federal officials do not believe the revolutionary element strong enough to start a general movement, but these details are official.

When three detectives arrived at the house the board of health officers would not let them out of the building until they submitted to vaccination. The prisoners and detectives appeared together in police court Tuesday with swollen arms.

INAUGURAL FIREWORKS.

Washington, March 6.—The inaugural fireworks display, postponed from Monday night on account of the inclement weather, took place Tuesday evening.

The display was made from the grounds surrounding the Washington monument, and was one of the finest pyrotechnic features ever attempted in the Capital city. The rain, which imposed shaft of the Washington monument, formed a fitting background for the brilliant illumination caused by the explosion of rockets, bombs, cascades and fountains and batteries of jeweled mines, which continued for an hour or more.

The programme included large fire portraits of President McKinley and Vice President Roosevelt.

THE DEMANDS.

State Department Does Not Underestimate the Difficulties in Reaching an Agreement.

EFFORT MADE TO RESTRAIN DEMANDS.

The Sum Total Should Be Within the Ability of the Chinese Government to Meet.

Ministers Will Consider the Protests of the Chinese Plenipotentiaries Regarding Legations Quarters Now Established.

Washington, March 6.—Such reports reach here from Peking indicate that the state department by no means underestimated the difficulties that would be experienced in the reaching an agreement between the foreign ministers respecting the amount of indemnity to be levied upon the Chinese government and the amount of collection. Special Commissioner Rockhill is doing all he can do to restrain the demands of the powers to a sum total that will be within the ability of the Chinese government to meet without the destruction of the dynasty and an upheaval that would result in the loss of their territory by China. It appears, however, that the demands in their present shape are of an onerous character, and grave difficulty is anticipated in securing an amelioration of the demands. It will not be surprising if it should become necessary for the powers sincerely desirous of avoiding a partition of China to address the Chinese directly through the office of the other powers, as was done in the case of the punishment section of the agreement, in the hope that they may induce the foreign ministers at Peking on different lines from those they are now pursuing.

GEN. YIN SHANG

By Order of Li Hung Chang He Writes to Count Von Waldersee, Making Certain Requests.

Peking, March 6.—Gen. Yin Tching by order of Li Hung Chang, wrote to Count Von Waldersee making the following requests: "If it is possible, let there be no more expeditions."

"Give permission to the Chinese troops to remain within ten miles of the allies for the purpose of preventing looting and robbing."

"Direct the allied troops, while searching for and punishing robbing and looting, to give assistance of the Chinese officials."

"Prevent the native Christians from making extortionate claims, which the missionaries often help to enforce."

Von Waldersee's Reply.

To this communication Count Von Waldersee sent the following reply: "The headquarters staff of the allied army can not enter into an agreement to undertake no more expeditions, but must reserve the right to act according to circumstances."

"If no general conditions, political of otherwise, arise, like the appearance of bands of robbers on the behavior of the Chinese, regular troops that would necessitate expeditions, Count Von Waldersee is inclined to agree to the request of Li Hung Chang to have no more expeditions."

"The local authorities will be asked to ascertain the guilty so far as possible."

"Indinities to native Christians or missionaries will be settled in future by the mutual agreement of the diplomats."

EFFIGY OF BUDDHA SAV D

The Temple of a Thousand Years. In the Summer Palace, Partially Destroyed by Fire.

Peking, March 6.—The next general meeting of the ministers of the powers will consider the protests of the Chinese plenipotentiaries regarding the legations quarters now established in Chinese public buildings. The British and Russians have taken the board of works, board of revenue and board of ceremonies. The Italians have taken the emperor's personal temple of worship.

Fire has destroyed the greater part of the temple of a Thousand Years in the summer palace. Fortunately the effigy of Buddha, weighing 60 tons, was not injured.

IN THE SENATE.

A Lively Debate Was Precipitated at the First Session of the Fifty-Seventh Congress.

Washington, March 6.—Quite unexpectedly a lively debate was precipitated Tuesday at the first business of the senate of the fifty-seventh congress. Mr. Platt (Cl.) offered an amendment to the rule to limit debate in the senate. Its opponent had no purpose to provoke discussion upon it Tuesday, but several senators expressed their views in no uncertain terms. Senator Mason (Ill.) thought it did not go far enough, and gave notice of an amendment under which, he said, the majority would not be under control of the minority. Senators Wellington (Md.) and Bacon (Ga.) denounced the effort to change the rules as unseemly, the former challenging the right of the senate to consider the proposition at this session.

Many of the senators were recipients of beautiful floral offerings from their friends, several of the pieces on the democratic side of the chamber being particularly notable.

Former Senator Pfeiffer, of Kansas, was on the floor during the early part of the session and was cordially received by his former colleagues.

A MUSICAL PRODIGY

Padreswki Bids Fair to be Dethroned by Josef Hofmann, the Wonderful Pianist.

New York, March 6.—Padreswki, the musical prodigy of New York, bids fair to be dethroned by a young man who 15 years ago made his debut as an infant prodigy and was present from playing by Gerry society. After an absence of three years Josef Hofmann, the pianist, made his reappearance directly from Europe last afternoon. His programme was perhaps the largest and broadest from a musical standpoint that has ever been presented to an American audience by any pianist. Professionals, experts and critics after the performance said that never since Rubenstein's debut such work had been done in this country.

At the close of the programme Tuesday the audience refused to leave the hall until Hofmann had played three extra numbers. During the encore performances the aisles following the line of the stage was packed with men and women standing and bestowing their applause on the pianist.

What Kentucky Is...

ANOTHER STRIKING CHAPTER

Every Voter in the State Should Read, and Act For His Own Welfare.

WAGING WAR ON CAPITAL.

A Keen Knife Raised Against Every Enterprise.

PRESENT TAXING METHODS RUINOUS

Lexington Morning Herald.

We called the attention of our readers the other day to the very striking address made by Colonel William A. Hemphill of Atlanta before the annual meeting of the Southern States Industrial Business League at its late meeting in Chicago. It was a most gratifying statement of the growth and development of Georgia and the Southern states, using the "Southern States" as meaning those below the Southern line of the old border states, possibly, however, including rather than excluding Tennessee. The growth and development of Missouri has been remarkable. But as Kentucky, Maryland, Delaware and Missouri were not the cause of perpetual warfare and were not harried and destroyed by the war and did not pass through the pangs and desolation of reconstruction they were not included in the scope of that address.

The matter we desire to call to the attention of our readers this morning is that Kentucky, which did not suffer much from the desolation of war and nothing from reconstruction, has not improved with the rapidity which has marked the increase of wealth in these Southern states; when there was every reason why the growth should be more rapid. The problem of the duplex races is one of gravity, not of danger, in Kentucky. The proportion of white to black is about 6 to 1; and in many counties of the state there are so few colored people that it does not amount to anything. Kentucky rather than slave property, whatever the value of that was. The emancipation of slaves struck from her tax list about $150,000,000, reducing her nominal wealth from about $200,000,000 to about $50,000,000; but there was a vast difference between striking this from the tax list and the destruction of the property. They ceased to be chattels, but they remained laborers. They were no longer taxable as property; but they were producers and wage-earners. Whatever there was of real wealth not transferred from the white to the colored individual slave holder as property. It was not lost to the state as productive force. Otherwise Kentucky did not suffer from the war in the same manner as the other Southern states. Perhaps the amount of money spent in Kentucky by the Federal authorities during the war was larger than the total loss occasioned by the war. When the war ended Kentucky exhibited more wisdom, patriotism and kindness than any other state in the Union. She "at once repeated every obnoxious, discriminating statute, she restored the Confederate sons to equality with her Federal sons. There was hardly a day after the final surrender that Kentucky did not welcome to their homes her sons who had served under the Stars and Bars. The era of kindness began at once; and we owe a very great debt of gratitude to that kindness of the Union party which patriotically was in control of Kentucky at the close of the war. The spirit represented by Bramlett, Buckner, Hardin, Houston, Kinkaid and various others, was a spirit of fraternity and was indeed a most wise and beneficent spirit. Kentucky began to prosper immediately. The Democratic party obtained possession of Kentucky at once; and its policy was liberal and wise. The common school system was enlarged; fair encouragement was given for the construction of railroads; and for some years nothing was done which deserved criticism. But during the last fifteen years Kentucky has not grown and has not developed. The Democratic party has been in control of the state, and has been in the hands of the reactionary leaders.

There was absolutely nothing which justified an attack upon the corporations of the state, and the need for foreign capital; we did not have enough of our own capital for our purposes. Every encouragement ought to have been given to men to come; and for some years nothing was done which deserved criticism. But during the last fifteen years Kentucky has not grown and has not developed. The Democratic party has been in control of the state, and has been in the hands of the reactionary leaders.

from coming into the state. If there is any talk about investing in Kentucky, the Tax Assessor and the Tax Collector, the Back Tax Assessor and the Back Tax Collector, the Boards of Equalization, the Railroad Commission, the Auditor, the Prosecuting Attorney of Franklin county and the County Attorneys of the various counties pick up their ears. They seek the feast from afar. Fiscal Courts are called and enter into contracts with gentlemen who collect the taxes with large contingent fees. We have the statement that "where the chicken is, there the vultures gather." In Kentucky the vultures gather before the living organism becomes a carcass. These officials are all honest men; they are clever gentlemen. They are all ready to serve the state; but the result of all the legislation and the modes of taxation and the annoying ways in which it is done keeps foreign capital out and drives home capital away.

Recently it is said that the Board of Valuation and Assessment has allotted to the various counties tax on franchise and other things—sums that will be equal to nearly six hundred thousand dollars. How much of this—in the shape of contingent fees and commissions—goes into the pockets of very clever gentlemen we know not. It is a large sum in any sense for the state to lose; but the publication all over America of this new and worrisome burden will turn the mind of every capitalist away from Kentucky.

We live by the sweat of our face. The laborer is our brother. The foundation of wealth upon which all else is built in a state is prosperous labor. Contented labor is the first, prime requisite of progressive prosperity. We represent in these statements and protests the true interests of him who labors, whether he labors on the farm, in the shops, or in any other vocation of life. He who produces bread stuffs must find a market where laborers have money to buy what they need to eat. He who goes to those markets to buy must have an employer who pays the wages out of which the necessities of life are purchased. If there be no prospering capital there can be no labor at high wages. This is so axiomatic that it is always an inexplicable problem to us when we see laborers fighting against the introduction and liberal encouragement of foreign capital.

Capital is always at the control of labor; because the number of laborers is much greater than the number of capitalists that the ballot box, the legislative bodies and the Courts can at any time be conquered by those who work for a living; and if capital is invested in a state it remains permanent. These are questions much above mere partisanship—far more important than the mere personal equation. It does not make very much difference, except to the excellent gentlemen who are aspirants, who happen to fill our offices. Public affairs are fairly well managed by men who obtain the nomination and gets the election. But it does make a vast difference whether the spirit of our legislation and the mode in which business is conducted and the protection of those laws give protection, security and encouragement to induce capital to come into our midst.

Another member told of a struggle he had to persuade one out of a very few of these clerks to do a little work for him on a typewriter.

No orders to this effect have yet been issued. Gen. Davis, provincial marshal of Manila, denies having recommended these changes. Trade with these islands has been considerably hampered by the war but the Morven's arrival is taken as an indication that the imports will soon become as large as before the beginning of the war.
